

Doctoral training for PhD students at the University of Strasbourg (ED-MSII)

During the 3 years of the PhD, doctoral students need to follow the following two training courses:

1. Scientific training course

- 6 seminars per year, 4 within the Doctoral school (total of 18 seminars).
- At least 2 Masters modules (40-50 hrs total) from:
 - Masters M2: needs to be linked to the PhD.
 - Masters M1: can be a different subject from the PhD but needs to be scientific.

Further information can be found at:

<http://ed.math-spi.unistra.fr/formations/formation-scientifique/>

2. Professional training course ("formation transversale")

- Scientific English course during the 2nd yr (22.5 hrs course given by P. Montgomery).
- Training modules (20–25 hrs total):
 - LateX, Twitter, Zotero, teaching in English...etc.

Further information can be found at:

<http://ed.math-spi.unistra.fr/formations/formation-transversale/>

(Rachel Schmitt sends out details of training courses as they become available)

<http://urfist.u-strasbg.fr/>